

Delft University of Technology Extension School

- Roadmap for creating online courses -

How to read this roadmap

The roadmap for creating an online course is based on tasks assigned to certain roles or people. Each role has an icon: the abbreviation of the role in a circle. The size of the icon indicates that this role holds the key responsibility for the task's completion. The smaller icons indicate that these roles/people are involved in completing the task, but do not bear the responsibility.

Sometimes tasks are assigned to student assistants, but in the end, the instructor is responsible for the student assistant and ensuring that s/he actually performs the task.
